

generation of active Republicans. He belongs to a well-known family and has himself acquired some wealth in various corporate enterprises in and about Elizabeth, where he makes his home. He has been connected with Republican politics for several years, and is regarded by many as the probable nominee for Governor next year, in case he should not be elected to the Senate. He is a shrewd business man, illiterate, personally educated and not so easily identified with the railroad corporations as to arouse the antagonism which is always more or less active in the community.

GARRET A. HOBART'S CHANCES.

The name of Garret A. Hobart, of Paterson, has been suggested for the Senatorship, in view of his former candidacy and his political prominence as a member of the Republican National Committee. He does not seem inclined to make the fight, however, and in the same county State Senator John W. Griggs has been mentioned favorably. Mr. Griggs is a lawyer of high standing and great ability, and has had long experience in legislation in New-Jersey. He, too, is among the younger men toward whom the people instinctively look just now.

AN ABLE AND UPRIGHT JURIST.

Vice-Chancellor Van Fleet, one of the wisest of Jerseymen and one whom lawyers consider at the head of his profession, is another of those whose names have been brought forward. His position, as intimated, is second to none in the State, and he would assuredly make an acquisition to the Senate.

GENERAL SEWELL'S CANDIDACY.

General William J. Sewell's candidacy is prominent and urgent, and he is well known throughout the State, both by reason of his long service in patent places in the Pennsylvania Railroad and as formerly Senator from New-Jersey, from 1881 to 1887. General Sewell belongs to the older politicians whose views differ in some notable and important respects from those entertained by other members of his party, but he is justly regarded as one of the most distinguished and powerful personalities in New-Jersey politics, and both on this account and from his business associations is expected to cut a large figure in the contest. He will have the support of his own county of Camden and of other South Jersey members, and while his candidacy is more bitterly opposed than that of any other of those suggested, his friends claim that his supporters are as sincere in their admiration as his opponents in their enmity.

The canines of Senator will take place soon after the organization of the Legislature. If indeed, any caucus is necessary, many hold that it would be avoided when it is not required, and since the Republicans have 72 of the 93 votes in joint meeting, there seems scarcely any danger of the Democratic majority causing any difficulty. Upon whom the slim Democrats may choose to unite might be an amusing subject for consideration by the way.

PLENTY OF GOOD MATERIAL.

New-Jersey has, it will be seen, good material for United States Senator, and upon the decision as to a candidate will depend much of the party's future. A proper selection will unquestionably put the party in such shape as to make a victory in Governor in 1895, and for President in 1896 a comparatively easy task; a blunder would imperil a great triumph most unnecessarily. The Democrats have been ruined in the State by basism, by considering the welfare of corporations when their interests conflicted with those of the public, and by a misuse of partisan powers. Their example should teach the Republicans what to avoid, and how to keep that which has been so splendidly won.

LAST DAY FOR FILING ACCOUNTS.

CANDIDATES WHO NEGLECT TO DO SO WILL BE PROSECUTED.

Only one more day remains of the ten allowed candidates in which to file a statement of their campaign expenses, and only 24 out of more than four hundred candidates have filed their accounts. Unless those who are now delinquent come forward before to-day at 1 p.m., they will be liable to punishment for a misdemeanor. The statements filed yesterday were:
